

Works Cited

Alvarez, P. (2019, June 20). Border Patrol chief says description of immigration facilities as 'concentration camps' is 'offensive'. Retrieved from <https://www.cnn.com/2019/06/20/politics/border-patrol-response-concentration-camp-remarks/index.html>

The article published on CNN's website details the Border Patrol chief, Carla Provost's, response to accusations that the border camps should be labeled as "concentration camps". The article quotes Provost while also including statements made by Democratic Representative Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez. The article will be helpful when explaining the context behind the hashtag as well as how some government officials are responding.

Disrupt, Sabotage, Shut-Down: #CloseTheCamps Resistance Timeline. (2019, June 28). Retrieved from <https://itsgoingdown.org/close-the-camps-resistance/>

The article published on the It's Going Down website discusses the development of protests against ICE beginning in 2018. The article provides links to current protests and a timeline that describes protests in the last month using tweets with media. The tweets provided as well as the brief description will be useful when looking at how hashtags are used to promote social activism and incite protests.

Gajanan, M. (2019, June 25). Wayfair Employees Plan Walkout to Protest Sales to Border Facilities. Retrieved from <https://time.com/5614072/wayfair-protest-border-detention-beds/>

The TIME article reports the current situation happening between Wayfair employees and the company itself. In the summary, the article includes tweets from a wayfairwalkout account (@wayfairwalkout) and Congresswoman Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez and quotes from some Wayfair employees participating in the protest. The article provides an example of how awareness of social issues can lead to larger protests and an example of how people are choosing to respond to the recent information surrounding the border camps.

Merolla, J., Ramakrishnan, S. K., & Haynes, C. (2013). "Illegal," "Undocumented," or "Unauthorized": Equivalency Frames, Issue Frames, and Public Opinion on Immigration. Perspectives on Politics, 11(3), 789-807. doi:10.1017/s1537592713002077

The journal article, published in 2013, reports how the topic of immigration has been presented by media outlets and received by the general public. The journal presents its data in numerous charts that are organized around percentages of policy coverage, news outlets, public support of immigration, etc. The journal can provide further context on the issue of immigration in regards to the public prior to the current border crisis; the data on

Xiong, Y., Cho, M., & Boatwright, B. (2019). Hashtag activism and message frames among social movement organizations: Semantic network analysis and thematic analysis of Twitter during the #MeToo movement. Public Relations Review, 45(1), 10-23. doi:10.1016/j.pubrev.2018.10.014

The journal article explores how hashtags have been used to participate in social movements, specifically the #MeToo movement. It includes an analysis of tweets using the hashtag in relation to the topic in a similar way that the spreadsheets have categorized our tweets. The last few sections of the journal discuss the implications of “hashtag activism” and how it functions in current culture. The journal will be helpful when analyzing the #CloseTheCamps tweets because the hashtag is often used as a way to participate in activism and promote it.