This article would allow me to use this information and talk about the history, and process of deportation, as well as ways to avoid being deported. This can help me in my paper because I would be able to elaborate on what deportation is, and the official definition of the topic in its entirety. I will most likely use this article in the beginning of my paper.

This article would allow me to explain the sides of the pro deportation ideas presented by the people who posted such within the Tweets that I have read. This can help my paper because I will be able to have evidence to back up the thoughts of people who would like to keep the notion of deporting people. I will probably use this information towards the end of my paper, after I explain the two sides of pro and con deportation.

Sacchetti, M., Sieff, K., & Fisher, M. (2018, June 24). Separated immigrant children are all over the U.S. now, far from parents who don't know where they are. Retrieved June 28, 2019, from https://wapo.st/2lvjOfN?tid=ss\_tw&utm\_term=.ee712204d019

This article would help me to support the con deportation side of my twitter analysis . It would argue the fact that deporting parents hurts more than just those parents being deported, it also hurts the children that can be left behind. This article would help to show evidence for what a majority of the tweets agree with.

U.S. Citizen Children Impacted by Immigration Enforcement. (2018, May 23). Retrieved June 28, 2019, from www.americanimmigrationcouncil.org/research/us-citizen-children-impacted-immigration-enforcement.

This article would help me to explain the side of con deportation presented by a majority of my Twitter analysis. Within this article, I could help to explain one of the main thoughts in which I found when I was reading the con deportation arguments on Twitter This was the way in which these immigrants live in America and then become deported, is their new way of life, which should not be. I will use this information also towards the end of my paper, right after the pro deportation argument.

Why Do People Come to the US? (n.d.). Retrieved June 28, 2019, from

<https://usafacts.org/reports/immigration>

This article would help me to explain why people decide to come to America in the first place, whether that be legally or illegally. This could help portray the side that most of the pro deportation people fail to understand according to my Twitter analysis. I would put this information towards the end of my paper.
